DX MAGAZINE No. 5

■ Vol. LX

■ May 2025

Hello again,

Welcome to the March edition of our DX MAGAZINE. As I have informed you earlier, our long time NEWS EDITOR Walter Eibl has resigned in March 2024.

Therefore we still need a new NEWS EDITOR as soon as possible. If you are able and interested to become our new NEWS EDITOR, please do not hesitate to contact me. I shall support our new NEWS EDITOR with all news material we get from our members, from other DX clubs and from radio stations.

(cf. DXM 4/2025) The correct address of our download archive, where you can find the Africa logs of Harald Suess, is <<http://download.wwdxc.de>> (not <<http://download.wwwdxc.de>> as stated in a part of the April issue).

And now over to our news from outside the club: Michael Andersson informs us that it is not too late to register for the 2025 DX Parliament & EDXC Conference in Sweden 13-15 June. He will be happy to reply to any questions via email <secretary@sdx.se>. The full preliminary programme can be found at: <<http://download.wwdxc.de>>

(Michael Andersson, SDXF)

Our member Van Herridge, N4VGE, informs us about an upcoming DXpedition to Andaman Island:

It is with great excitement that World DXpeditions, Inc. is announcing an upcoming DXpedition to the much sought after Andaman Island; IARU Region 3, IOTA AS-001, with three POTA locations (IN-0003, IN-0005, and IN-0007).

From October 19 to November 2, 2026, a team of 14 operators will be active from Andaman Island, operating five stations 24/7 on bands from 10m to 160m including the WARC bands using all modes. The priorities for this DXpedition will be to provide maximum exposure for sponsors, provide the highest number of QSOs possible to North America, and placing First in the 2026 CQ World Wide SSB DX Contest for Asia.

The support of Sponsors and Patrons are essential to make this DXpedition a success. Gold Sponsors (donations of $2,000 or more) and Silver Sponsors (donating $1,000 or more) will be recognized on our QSL cards and website. All other Sponsors and Patrons will be listed on our website <<http://www.worlddxpeditions.org/andaman>>.

Commitments made to support the Andaman Island DXpedition this year will be listed on our website immediately. Fulfillment of the commitment will be due by May 31, 2026.

Full information can be found at <<http://www.worlddxpeditions.org/andaman>>. (Van Herridge, N4VGE)

And with this best wishes and good DX until next month from

NEWS ABOUT BROADCASTING (+other) STATIONS

European, Private Shortwave Stations

As of May 2025 I think this the complete list of licensed, private, low powered SW stations in Europe: Additionally there are a few other stations broadcastings weekends only or even on rarer occasions - and / or simply broadcasting irregularly.

9410 kHz BBC Apr 25 at 0555 UT, and on 9410 kHz it's supposed to be BBC in English for 2 hours. AUSTRALIA: I am a licensed hobby broadcaster and advanced HAM operator. I have launched an experimental broadcast on 2355 kHz (April 17) using my license for the first time, it's in C-QUAM AM Stereo broadcasting from Kuranda. The address is <4trradio@gmail.com>
(Christopher O'Reilly, VK4MTV, VK4TRP / ARDXC)

2355 kHz, new station with experimental, test broadcast of "Tropical Radio Program aka TRP" ("Maybe name change to Tropical Radio Network"); operated by Christopher O'Reilly, from Kuranda, Queensland, Australia; on April 17, from tune in at 1045+ UTC, via Kiwi SDR remote at Townsville, Queensland; thanks very much for the timely alert from the Australian Radio DX Club; playing various music; at 1132 UT with Christopher as DJ. Will be on the air over the Easter weekend and is operating in stereo. Christopher replied quickly to my email and acknowledged it over the air. Great to have a new Australian on SW.

Linear Amplifier: Custom modified SL250DX running at 15 watts carrier 60-watt PEP plans for upgrade. Licensed for 1000 Watts carrier.

On April 20 (Easter Sunday), I enjoyed the rare occasion of hearing four low powered stations ! Another day with the new station on 2355 kHz, with experimental, test broadcast of "Tropical Radio Program aka TRP" (on air "4TRP"); operated by Christopher O'Reilly, on April 20, randomly from 0915 through 1615 UT, via Kiwi SDR remote at Townsville, Queensland-AUS; played the usual music and frequent IDs.

2368.4 kHz Radio Symban, 0910+ UT, April 18 (Good Friday), via Kiwi SDR remote at Brisbane-AUS, had been checking on this recently with no results but thanks very much to Craig Seager-Perth-AUS for the timely tip today. Back on the air for a special broadcast of Greek Orthodox church service ?

2368.4 kHz Radio Symban on April 20, randomly from 0920+ UT, via Kiwi SDR remote at Hunter Valley Australia; non-stop beautiful Greek music / songs; good reception. Will this station stay on the air after Easter ?

4835 kHz VL8K, domestic Shortwave Australia, on April 20, randomly from 0937+ UT, via SDR remote at Hunter Valley; pop songs with DJ talking about the songs played.

4970 kHz 'Radio 567' on April 20, randomly from 0932+UT, via SDR remote at Hunter Valley; playing pop songs and with frequent IDs.

BRAZIL: 6180 & 11780 kHz, now we have more details about RNB English & Spanish:

"Radio Nacional da Amazonia launches Spanish and English Programs. On March 31, 2025, Radio Nacional da Amazonia took an important step in its programming by introducing an International Service aimed at listeners from other countries who follow the station through its shortwave broadcasts.

With a duration of 10 minutes, the program is divided as follows: five minutes in English, followed by five minutes in Spanish. It is broadcast Monday through Friday, from 10:50 PM to 11:00 PM Brasilia local time - equivalent to 01:50 AM to 02:00 AM Coordinated Universal Time (UTC) - on frequencies of 6180 kHz (49-meter band) and 11780 kHz (25-meter band).

On days when sports are broadcast, the program will not air. The production and presentation are led by journalist Ana Pimenta.

According to Sergio Doria Partamian from the DX Clube do Brasil, "this is a commendable initiative, as the station, which is primarily domestic in nature, focuses mainly on serving the Brazilian audience, especially the isolated communities in the Amazon."

However, "by reserving a space, albeit a short one, for international listeners, Radio Nacional da Amazonia not only expands its reach but also strengthens cultural ties with neighboring nations and even with more distant countries that express interest and appreciation for Brazilian culture," Partamian states.

For the DX Clube do Brasil, this initiative reinforces the value of shortwave radio as a means of communication capable of crossing borders, delivering information and entertainment to regions where access to the internet and other media is still limited.

CANADA: CFRX is a shortwave relay on 6070 kHz of a Toronto local AM station, CFRB (Newstalk 1010 kHz). It has a 1kw shortwave transmitter, but it is quite listenable (especially evenings) in many northern and eastern states in the US including here in Hoosierland. Since so much of the US AM band is either toxic or boring (or both), I began this exercise with low expectations, Toronto traffic and weather for example being unlikely to rivet my attention for long, and 90% of AM talk radio in the United States being unlistenable by reasonably intelligent people. The station surprised me in a good way, and its schedule contains a number of items that would be interesting beyond Canada's borders.

First a word about the news component of CFRX/CFRB's format. The full news programs are actually relays of CTV television (CTV News Toronto every day at 2200-2300 UTC and CTV National News Mon-Sat 0300-0400 UTC, CTV's

"On the evening of 7 May 2025, the Chinese Village Voice of the Central People's Broadcasting Station (CPB) was transmitting on the 11695kHz shortwave frequency.

The author was away from home during the evening and received it via an SDR receiver to confirm the authenticity of the message.

According to information provided by the staff of the Wireless Bureau of the State Administration of Radio, Film and Television (SARFT), 11695kHz is a temporary timeslot frequency during the maintenance of Beijing's medium-wave 720kHz transmitting equipment, which is only substituting for a few days and transmits for the North China region.

This is not the first time that China's Village Voice has used shortwave frequencies to transmit; the author received shortwave signals from China's Village Voice in late August 2020 and late May 2022 on two occasions."

CONGO D.R.: Radio Kahuzi DRC. From the latest Radio Kahuzi newsletter.

Update from the Frontline.

With just 28 days to go, our plans have not changed ... moving out of the old property, completing car repairs, and reestablishing the shortwave outreach are within sight, but to achieve this, and due to the war, our date of return has been changed for the third time to May 17, Lord Willing.

An answer to prayer ... Jean-Marie returned to Bukavu April 19 from Kenya. Our Shortwave transmitter has been ready to go back on AIR, but, first, we need him to verify the computer programming system is not damaged after the bad rain and the hole in the roof of our Radio Kahuzi FM Studio.

Samuel and Gregoire spotted the problem as they found rain water running down into the light switch causing a short circuit. They immediately hired a carpenter to repair the breach with new metal roofing.

Please continue to pray that the Lord will provide new monthly donors to "Stand in the Gap" with us as the opportunities abound to share our testimony to His Glory and Honor. Let us all remain faithful in the Lord's work !

Keep Looking UP!

Looking for His Soon Appearing!

Rich and Kathy.

CUBA: Radio Havana Cuba. This is the A25 Schedule for Radio Havana Cuba - Only English, Spanish, and Portuguese remain on shortwave (SW) broadcasts.

You'll notice that only two frequencies, 6000 kHz and 15230 kHz, are still in use. Unfortunately, the antenna systems and transmitters are probably beyond repair, and it seems China won't be providing any more funding. (!)

Regardless, the broadcasts still sound awful-fuzzy, distorted, and incredibly under-modulated. French, Arabic, Esperanto, and Creole will only be available via streaming. Honestly, if it were up to me, I would consider reversing course a bit by dropping service to North America and focusing on Latin America and Africa. This could involve prioritizing Spanish, Portuguese, and French, while offering English and Creole only online.

DENMARK: End of 'Radio 208' on 1440 kHz and SW 5970 kHz too.

And bigger presence on SW for World Music Radio.

World Music Radio is planning to commence broadcasting on two new frequencies sometime during the month of June from Hvidovre-DNK, previously used for WMR on MW 927kHz (which has been silent for the past six months or so, and which will not return) - and previously used for Radio208 on 5970 kHz.

The two new frequencies will be 3965 kHz (400W) and 25820 kHz (100W).

So from July 1st 2025 WMR will hopefully be on: 3965 (24/7), 5930 (24/7), 15700 (05-22 UTC), 25800 (24/7), and 25820 (24/7) kHz.

'Radio208' on the other hand will be closed down in the course of May. That means the end of MW 1440 kHz (currently 300 Watts) from Ishøj. 1422kHz in Central Copenhagen has already been switched off. During Easter 'Radio208' on 5970kHz also went off the air. 'Radio208' began broadcasting on 1440 kHz on December 17th 2019, and from May 1st 2020 shortwave was added.

There are many reasons for closing 'Radio208'. First of all - it is very expensive to run two radio stations. For the past few years I have been paying some 530 Euro monthly for music royalties. And with WMR and 'Radio208' not generating any income - only expenses. Also it would be very difficult to get a new experimental license for mediumwave from the Danish authorities as of July 1st 2025 (obtaining a permanent license is not possible).

So this will be the end of 'Radio208' - and the end of Mediumwave broadcasting from Denmark.

LITHUANIA: Radio Svoboda, the Russian service of the US-funded Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty (RFE/RL), said on 15 April that it would suspend broadcasting on the 1386 kHz medium-wave (AM) frequency starting that day. It noted that United States Agency for Global Media (USAGM) was delaying transfers of money that Congress had allocated to RFE/RL for the 2025 fiscal year, against the backdrop of cuts made by President Donald Trump's administration to many state-funded bodies.

However, later that day, the state-owned Lithuanian Radio and Television Centre (Telecentras) decided to continue airing daily evening programmes of Radio Svoboda, according to the latter, for free until the end of April, following the expiry of the broadcasting agreement.

Radio Svoboda's evening broadcast on 1386 AM is also available online and via pan-European satellite alternatives. (BBC Monitoring April 16)

By the way, it has already in 2021 been speculated that the next pope could do what Bergoglio apparently just did not want to still do: Pulling the plug. He already told them how dissatisfied he was with their reach and also appeared to be aware of the reasons. Stated live on air, causing consternation amongst the top brass on the other side of the studio window.

Meanwhile the financial situation of the Vatican is pretty dire (English-language reporting of this should exist). And it are, if I recall correct, more than 20 percent of their money they spend on this dumbed-down media zoo.

There is a feeling that it was almost prophetic how their funeral coverage ended with not one but two feedback loops. First a mild one when they dropped out of the last part that was not supposed to be shown live, fading up whatever wrong source, then a real blare when finally fading to the Peter's Square webcam while the loudspeakers there were still on.

SW test transmissions from Moldova {at Pridnestrovie - Transnistria transmitter in Grigoriopol Maiac on Ukrainian border line} towards Chukotka (Russia's Far East) (!).

"From April 10, a shortwave transmitter of the Pridnestrovian Radio and Television Center - Radioteletsentr (PRTC) transmitter Grigoriopol Maiac will operate in a test format.

The program chosen for testing is "Vesti FM". This action is being carried out at the request of the Far Eastern branch of RTRS. The purpose of the tests is to assess the coverage of the Chukotka Autonomous Okrug with a shortwave signal.

Transmitter: PKV500M, power - 300 kW. Azimuth - 15 degrees. Please note that this is broadcast to the Russian Far East. It is clear that it will probably be possible to receive not only in the target zone. I would like to note that at this stage, these are just tests. Any conclusions and further decisions will follow."

P.S. They closed their SW stations in Siberia and the Far East to broadcast from Moldova :) However, a SW station near Komsomolsk-on-Amur (100/ 250 kW) still exists; there were DRM transmissions towards Chukotka not long ago.

These requested channels of GFC FMO during UAE hfcc.org conference in February 2025 for A25 season:

Very powerful signal here in U.K. on 11530 kHz at 0900 UT on April 11.
Audio clear, but somewhat lacking in bass response for my liking. No interference from Kurdish radio 'Denge Gel' 11550 kHz, or Erdogan jamming from Emirler-TUR on 11520 kHz at this time.

However, propagation charts show that at this hour, 17 or 21 MHz would offer optimum reception in the target area.

RUSSIA: 80th Anniversary of Victory in the Great Patriotic War. Interesting facts about the means of communication used during the Great Patriotic War.

In the first months of the war, Hitler's troops were able to capture most of the European territory of the USSR, the enemy managed to destroy a significant part of our air and field cable communication lines, and capture many of the radio stations built in the pre-war years.

Millions of Soviet people lived in the occupied territory, and it was necessary to give them the opportunity to listen to the Sovinformburo reports on the progress of military operations. It was decided to create a medium-wave broadcasting station in Kuibyshev (Samara) in the shortest possible time with a power of 1200kW, which was fantastic for those years.

The broadcasting zone of this station was to cover the entire occupied territory. The creation of a powerful radio station was to be carried out simultaneously with the construction of a defensive structure (bunker) for the country's top leadership.

Well-known domestic specialists participated in the development of the station's draft design, who subsequently supervised the installation and adjustment work on individual units of the radio station.

In accordance with the design, the station had two 600kW transmitters, capable of operating separately on long and medium waves with different programs, or together. The antenna system consisted of two groups of four freestanding towers, isolated from the ground. In each group, the towers were 150 m or 200 m high. The metal towers were located at the corners of a quadrangle with a side of 75 m.

Two of the towers served as antenna emitters, and two as passive reflectors. This made it possible to form a directional radiation pattern. The construction of this radio station took place in the most difficult conditions of wartime, but in 1943 the station was put into operation. The active use of the Kuibyshev radio station made it possible to ensure high field strength in the service area in the West of the country. It was impossible to jam the transmission of Soviet programs in the occupied territory (and the Germans made such attempts).

Also, during the years of the Leningrad blockade, simple radio played a special role in the lives of city residents - it not only maintained communication between the besieged city and the rest of the country, but also organized the daily life of Leningraders.

SWITZERLAND: On 31 December 2024, all the FM networks of the Swiss Broadcasting Corporation (SBC) shut down. What was left is DAB+ only. Having said that, private stations that wish to remain on the 88-108 MHz FM band could continue to operate through 2026. Since the ending of SBC FM, there have been continuing protests and criticism, especially from French Switzerland.

But the unhappiness has also now spread to German Switzerland. Unstable and unreliable reception with DAB+ in Switzerland's complicated topography is the most frequent complaint. Many people are sticking with the commercial local stations that have elected to remain on FM. According to the SBC itself, the national broadcaster has lost 15% of its audience since abandoning FM.

U.S.A.: US Armed Forces Network to reduce radio programs next month - by Allen Cone; April 21, 2025

"American Forces Network will reduce radio programming starting on May 1 to "better streamline operations," the Department of Defense announced Monday, April 21, 2025.

Removed will be the AFN Legacy, Freedom Rock, The Blend and Joe Radio, according to a news release. Also, commercially produced podcasts will no longer be available on the audio streaming service, AFN Go." "The military streaming service has more than 100,000 subscribers worldwide".

"Armed Forces Radio Services was formed on May 26, 1942, as a single channel and became Armed Forces Radio & Television Service from 1954-2009 and then AFN afterward."

Radio Marti 1180 kHz at Sisters Creek Island, Florida Keys, left the air at 1630 UT on 17 March 2025 UTC (~24 hrs after USAGM Greenville-NC SW shut down), then came back on at 1600 26 March 2025 UTC, according to multiple sources in positions to know.

Here's why its signal is likely not reaching Cuba:

Despite an earlier announcement that Radio Marti was back on the air following a presidential executive order that suddenly halted the U.S.-funded radio broadcasting to Cuba, its signal is probably not reaching the island because its shortwave transmitters remain silent.

NYTimes: Voice of America Reporters Are Set to Return to Work.

That appeared to be complicated on Saturday, when a federal appeals court paused the parts of the lower court's order that required the Trump administration to restore funding for the agency that finances Voice of America.

The appeals court, in Washington, D.C., wrote that it was leaving in place the portion of the ruling that ordered the government to revive Voice of America's "statutorily required programming levels."

But a dissenting judge, Cornelia Pillard of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit, predicted that the decision would leave deep staff cuts in place and result in the "silencing" of Voice of America "for the foreseeable future."

A coalition representing Voice of America journalists said that it was reviewing the decision. "In the meantime, Voice of America must continue to resume programming," the statement said.

WTWW situation from George McClintock circa 22 UT Apr 26:

9930 kHz back on air after some corona goop arrived to apply to insulators which were arcing. Had been absent for two or three days. I check here at 2206 UT, and find 9930 kHz with TOMBS is S=9+40/45dB, but without the splatter we had been getting: maybe that was caused by the arcing. The plus/minus 12.9 kHz spurs are still there but JBA carriers only. He also says the Harris SW100 transmitter has been sold to someone who wants to go on SW, somewhere unspecified, but does not have a CP yet. The live- in operator at the site has now moved in along with his wife. The gate to the property is soon to be upgraded to automatic. ## U.S.A. - USAGM entities “being left to bleed out” by Kim Andrew Elliott, USA

On April 22, federal judge Royce Lamberth handed down an important legal victory for employees of the Voice of America. He ordered the Trump administration (quoting Politico's report) “to immediately restore all employees and contractors to their news programs and unfreeze funding streams for other affiliated networks like Radio Free Asia and Middle East Broadcasting Networks. He also ordered officials to restore VOA programming to fulfill the legal mandate that it ‘serve as a consistently reliable and authoritative source of news.’” (tinyurl.com/2b6kpbuo) The plaintiffs expect the Trump administration to appeal, so the entities of the US Agency for Global Media may not see relief “immediately.”

The Trump Administration has not followed through on some court orders, including one to restore, for now, funding to Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty. While VOA, as a government agency under USAGM was shut down immediately and completely, the grantee corporations (RFE/RL, Radio Free Asia, and MBN) have been able to hang on with their cash on hand, reducing operations along the way.

Gjeraqina Tuhina, RFE/RL's Brussels correspondent, aptly described the situation: “RFE/RL is being left to bleed out-slowly, painfully and deliberately. USAGM is starving it of resources, pushing it toward an inevitable demise. The institution that shaped me, both in age and profession, is being dismantled from within.” (tinyurl.com/2ce7wce4)

Le Monde expressed similar gloom: « Les medias internationaux américains, instruments de soft power déployés depuis la seconde guerre mondiale, se meurent. » “The American international media, instruments of soft power deployed since the Second World War, are dying.” (tinyurl.com/2ysxfu2j, or to get through the paywall and the French: tinyurl.com/26ycu3nk)

A perfect storm for obliteration

The Trump Administration seems determined to destroy US government international broadcasting. On April 12, it was reported that Kari Lake, the de facto head of USAGM, was detailed to the State Department, “to scale back the agency [USAGM] and its affiliated outlets to their statutory minimum.” (tinyurl.com/23m4vozp) But neither VOA nor any part of USAGM has been part of the State Department since the US Information Agency was created in 1953. When USIA was eliminated in 1999, the Broadcasting Board of Governors and later USAGM became the parent agency of the entities. Lake's authority while at the State Department may be the result of another of Trump's many recent executive orders. And because it contradicts the International Broadcasting Act of 1994, it is a candidate for a court challenge.

For President Trump, USAGM and its entities present a perfect storm for obliteration. He does not like the journalism profession. VOA is a journalistic organization he can directly eliminate; RFE/RL and RFA take a bit longer. He despises federal employees and most on the federal payroll. And, finally, the USAGM entities exist to develop democracy abroad, and to confound dictators, by providing an independent news service. Trump does not seem keen about democracy, but he admires certain dictators.

State Department: Fighting disinformation is out, public diplomacy still in

US international broadcasting has existed to counter disinformation by providing information that is accurate and reliable. The State Department addressed disinformation more directly, by identifying it and its (sometimes covert) sources. On April 16, State's Global Engagement Center, since reduced and renamed the Counter Foreign Information Manipulation and Interference hub, was eliminated: "a huge victory for rightwing critics who had alleged that the office, despite only looking at foreign statelevel disinformation attacks on other countries, was involved in censoring American conservative speech." Its closure "leaves the State Department without any dedicated resources to counter increasingly sophisticated government disinformation campaigns" from China and Russia. (tinyurl.com/2cvvj28o)

On the subject of State Department, at least some of its public diplomacy output continues. Complementary to the independent journalism of US international broadcasting, public diplomacy directly advocates for US foreign policies or promotes the US image abroad. While VOA provided content in 49 languages, State's ShareAmerica website still has content in eleven languages. (tinyurl.com/y7m8kpkt)

It's mostly feel-good stories about life in America, but a recent example is edgier: "The truth about Cuba's medical missions." (tinyurl.com/22kega4t) Drill down to ShareAmerica's National Parks section, and the six most recent entries are about presidential monuments. (tinyurl.com/2yfh8zx4) Second on the list is Mount Rushmore. Oh oh.

Update: On April 22, Secretary of State Marco Rubio announced big reductions to the "bloated, bureaucratic" State Department. (tinyurl.com/2dqxg48s). Public diplomacy is still in the organizational chart, but it remains to be seen if ShareAmerica will survive.

The odd disappearance of VOA Editorials

On the Voice of America side of the street (VOA and USIA used to be located across the street from each other), a public-diplomacytype activity of VOA was the VOA Editorials. We used to hear these on shortwave. More recently, they were video-and-text productions. The last of the VOA Editorials, before VOA was closed on March 15, were decidedly pro-Trump-Administration. (tinyurl.com/2788kyyz) One headline: "Protecting Women From Gender Ideology."

I'm therefore surprised the VOA Editorials staff were not spared from the March 15 shutdown. They could have kept their web page running, probably without even entering the locked-up VOA headquarters building in Washington. Or they could have gone over to the public diplomacy offices of the State Department to create ShareAmerica Editorials, or something like that.

Radio Martí resumes, but not yet on shortwave

The exception to the closing of US international broadcast is that Radio Martí and its website martinoticias.com have been revived, at least to some extent. Its medium wave transmitter in the Florida Keys on 1180 kHz is back on the air. This survival of the Martís is no doubt helped by the support of Republican members of Congress. Florida Democrats also support the Martís, but it's Republican action that can undo decisions of the Trump Administration.

Radio Martí can more effectively overcome Cuban jamming if it resumes its shortwave transmissions from the USAGM transmitting station near Greenville, North Carolina. As of the time I write this (April 22) there are no plans to put Greenville back on the air. It does have a caretaker, so the building has electricity and air conditioning. Without AC, the equipment inside the facility would have deteriorated quickly. We need to save this station, somehow.

Is Persian next for revival?

Will any other elements of US international broadcasting come back to life? In last month's column, I predicted the seven language services that might resume. Most likely first on the list is Persian. I don't have an idea if it will be VOA Persian or RFE/RL's Radio Farda or both. USAGM may try to do Persian on the cheap and limit it to social media and other internet products. But given Iran's thorough interdiction of incoming internet traffic, it really needs to reactivate satellite television and terrestrial radio. The USAGM Kuwait shortwave and medium wave transmitting station will have to be revived, assuming it has remained in working order during its idle time.

Dear Friends,

Welcome to the May 2025 edition of Logbook.

Thanks once again to Siegbert for his contributions otherwise this Logbook would be empty.

I would encourage other members to chip in with their logs however little as it would keep this section going.

This month we have received few contributions, so please write to the broadcasters and send us your contributions with the data of the confirmations received so that this page can continue to be published. As always, whenever possible, we ask you to send the QSL that you have received in JPG format so that I can insert them on the page along with your identification code, first name, surname, city and region where you live. Please also always indicate the location of the receiver when listening on a SDR in another country. Contributions must be received by the editorial staff not later than 5 June 2025.

My best 73, Dario
